The oil car which is brought down to the Marlin-Rockwell Co. by the sleetric car, was loaded Monday evo-ning and on its way back jumped the track at Seventh street. It happened about 2 o'clock in the morning. There was a telegraph pole right on the corner and the car cut it clean off at the bottem and also knocked down the fence on Seventh street side which belongs to Mrs. Benjamin. The top of the drainer was knocked in and tore up the tar sidewalk in front of Mrs. Benjamin's house. The road was torn up for ten feet. As had as the damage was nobody was hurt. The motorman went to the car barn and returned with a force of men and in short order had the oil car back on the track.
